Kristina Mulvany has been practicing law for over ten years and is a shareholder at MVP Law. Kristina represents employers and insurance carriers in workers' compensation matters in Kansas and Missouri; and counsels employers and claims managers on all facets of the workers' compensation process from compliance with statutory requirements to effective claims handling.

Kristina has successfully litigated cases in both Kansas and Missouri. She has prevailed on both oral arguments and written briefs before the Kansas Workers Compensation Board of Appeals. Additionally, she routinely speaks to employers and attorneys in the field of workers' compensation, providing training and updates on Kansas and Missouri law as well as Medicare Set Aside Trusts.

Prior to law school, Kristina worked as a teacher with Teach for America, a national teacher corps of college graduates and professionals who commit to teach for two years and raise student achievement in public schools. During this time, Kristina taught middle school special education in Phoenix, Arizona and obtained her master's degree in special education from Arizona State University. After devoting three years to teaching, she subsequently obtained her Juris Doctor from the University of Missouri Kansas City School of Law where she graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Kristina currently resides in Shawnee, Kansas with her husband and children. She enjoys traveling, running, and spending time with her family and friends.
