Bryan Brooks is an attorney in the firm's Des Moines office representing employers and insurance carriers in all matters relating to workers' compensation defense.

Bryan graduated from the University of Dayton School of Law in 2003, and has been in private practice ever since. The focus of his practice has been exclusively in the realm of workers' compensation since 2007, and Bryan has experience both defending and pursuing claims.

While spending most of his professional career in Western New York, Bryan and his family relocated to the Des Moines area to join the MVP family in March 2022.

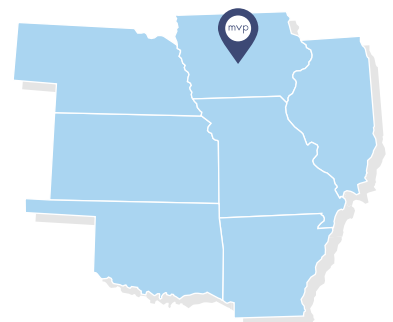

Bryan is an avid history buff; a love he inherited from his father. During the winter months, Bryan, his wife Kelly, and daughter Ava, enjoy being frustrated St. Louis Blues fans, while he spends his free time during the summer playing golf poorly.
