Sarah Boston is an associate in the firm's Kansas City office representing employers and insurers in workers' compensation cases. Sarah worked for the firm prior to attending law school from 2016 – 2019, clerked for MVP from 2019-2020 and continued as an associate attorney after graduation.

Sarah graduated from Washburn University with a certificate, associates degree, and bachelor's degree in Legal Studies. Prior to attending law school, Sarah had several years of experience within the legal field in various aspects of practice ranging from administration to attorney support. During undergraduate and law school, Sarah worked within the legal fields of workers' compensation, criminal defense, family law, and property law.

Sarah obtained her juris doctorate from the University of Missouri – Kansas City in May of 2020.

Sarah was born and raised in Topeka, Kansas and is an avid Kansas Jayhawk fan. Now a Kansas City resident, her free time is spent with her daughter and son in all of their extracurricular activities.
